Workshop Details

Time Management
Learn how to plan and schedule your time so that you can get more done in college.

Motivating Yourself
What are areas in your life which can be improved so that you are happy and more productive overall in college and outside of it?

Academic Integrity
Do you know the “core principles” of academic honesty? Find out what they are and why they are important to academic success.

Mid-Semester Reality Check
Are you struggling and worried if you’ll finish? Join us for a frank discussion of how you can adjust how you work to increase your chances of doing well.

Conquering Math Anxiety
Do tests or difficult subjects give you anxiety? Learn some techniques to overcome your anxiety in this workshop.

Stress Management
Learn how to balance your priorities and live with the inevitable stress of attending college. Make stress work for you, not against you!

Gathering Feedback
Developing a system of gathering feedback can increase how fast you learn. This workshop goes over what feedback is and how to use it more effectively in your study.

Test Taking Strategies
After learning the content it is helpful to also learn how to navigate an exam successfully. This workshop will help you develop test taking skills to increase your score.

Workshop Descriptions

Run-Ons, Fragments, and Comma Splices
Run-ons, fragments, and comma splices are extremely common sentence errors, and in this workshop, students will learn how to identify them as well as get practice with multiple ways to fix them.

Thesis Statements
This workshop helps students understand what a thesis statement is and why it’s important for academic writing. Students will get an opportunity to discuss and practice writing effective thesis statements.

How to Use Writing Center Online Tutoring
This workshop walks students through the process of how online tutoring in the Writing Center works. Students will learn how to access Google Video Chat and Drive from within their Los Rios Gmail accounts, and they can practice uploading documents and sharing them with an online tutor. If students plan to use a laptop for this tutoring, we encourage them to bring it to this workshop so we can help them troubleshoot the setup process.

Summarizing, Quoting, and Paraphrasing
Many courses ask students to use summary, direct quotes, or paraphrases to present other writers’ ideas and relate these ideas to their own opinions. This workshop helps students understand the similarities and differences between these three writing skills and gives students practice using them.

Grammar Practice
This workshop is designed with the ENGWR 51 student in mind. It reviews some basic grammar rules about clauses and commas, and it also has students practice these rules as well as some basic spelling, word choice, and subject/verb agreements.

Timed Writing
Many courses at SCC require timed writing, which can feel overwhelming or nerve-racking—even for experienced writers! This workshop helps students learn strategies to manage their time effectively, understand written assignments more clearly, and structure an essay with a purpose so they can finish a timed essay confidently and on time.

Integrating Sources
This workshop reviews the skills of paraphrasing and quoting and gives students concrete skills for how to blend other writers’ ideas smoothly into their own essay’s paragraphs.

Editing for Clarity
After revising the content or “ideas” in an essay, many successful writers review their grammar to ensure their sentences are clear and make sense. Becoming aware of the common types of errors we make as individual writers can help us fix our own errors. This workshop will help students search for the same type of error throughout a whole piece of writing and give students practice with different ways to correct those errors for clearer sentences.

Organizing Your Paper
In academic writing, organization refers to the way paragraphs are arranged in an essay, and sometimes, the way sentences are arranged in a paragraph. Effective organization allows a reader to understand a writer’s message and flow clearly from one point to another. This workshop will help students learn how to organize an essay and practice using transitions to move from paragraph to paragraph.

APA Citation
This workshop helps students understand how to use APA-style citation for an essay. Students will get detailed information about how to format in-text citations and a bibliography for a paper and will learn about online resources for APA formatting. Students are also encouraged to ask specific questions about sources they might be using for a research paper.

MLA Citation
This workshop helps students understand how to use MLA-style citation for an essay. Students will get detailed information about how to format in-text citations and a Works Cited page for a paper and will learn about online resources for MLA formatting. Students are also encouraged to ask specific questions about sources they might be using for a research paper.

Work Experience and Internships Program

announces

INTERNSHIPS at

Intel

Put your education to work. You’ll discover endless opportunities at Intel, no matter your field of study.

Intel can help you make the most of your education while learning about Intel’s business.

Our goal is to provide real world, thought-provoking internships to undergraduate and graduate-level students. Historically, more than 60 percent of interns go on to accept full-time opportunities after graduation. Internships are a great way to learn about Intel’s business and develop a network of contacts for the future.

Check out the postings on LINCS for complete descriptions and qualifications.

- Candidate must be planning to pursue a Bachelor’s Degree in Business Administration, Supply Chain, Economics, Accountancy or other business related field.
- Must have a 3.0+ cumulative GPA on a scale of 4.0.
- All internships require enrollment in a Work Experience (WEXP) course.

DEADLINE to apply for Summer 2017 Internships is March 10th

An INTEL representative will present on their SUMMER 2017 Internship Program
February 8, 2017 / 12:00pm-1:00pm in BUS 240. Event is free and open to everyone.

WEXP & Internships Program is located inside Counseling Services and the Career Center (RHN 147). For more information, stop by and see us or call 916-558-2383 or email: scc-wo@scc.losrios.edu
